INTRODUCTION

The Victaulic Logo is a visual reflection of our history, culture, personality, and international presence. The Victaulic Logo comprises a registered trademark in all the places we do business. These identity standards are developed to ensure the Victaulic corporate identity remains a consistent, recognizable, and powerful symbol of who we are. With thousands of products marketed around the world, we have an opportunity every day to connect with our customers, stakeholders, and distributors in a meaningful way. Each encounter impacts how people perceive our company, our brand, and our products and services. A single Victaulic identity conveys a clear vision that builds trust and confidence at every point of contact.

As Victaulic employees, you play a key role in using and reinforcing these standards. They are the foundation for creating world-class communications. The identity standards enclosed will help you display the Victaulic identity and brand symbol in the proper manner.

For more details and information about other Victaulic trademarks, please refer to the Guidelines for Use, Marking and Attribution of Trademarks Policy. If you have questions or need additional guidance, contact CorpCommunications@victaulic.com or Victaulic Legal Department.

IMPORTANT GUIDELINES

The Victaulic Logo and the Victaulic Word Trademark are two of Victaulic's most important assets, and their proper use is critical to preserving the goodwill and value associated with these trademarks and of the Company's legal rights. Ensure you are using our trademarks consistently and appropriately by following the guidelines.

The Victaulic Logo and the word Victaulic are Trademarks

- The Victaulic Logo and the word Victaulic may only be used to refer to our company or to identify Victaulic as the source and brand of our products, and may never be used to describe, or as a shorthand for, any other company's products or any type or class of product (even and especially grooved mechanical pipe couplings).
- Always capitalize Victaulic when using the trademark in text. The Victaulic Logo may only be used as a symbol, and never in place of a word in text.

Trademarks are Adjectives

- Use Victaulic only as an adjective, and never as a noun or verb. As an adjective, Victaulic identifies Victaulic Company as the source and brand of a product of a given type.
- It is only correct to say "a Victaulic tee" or "Victaulic valves" when referring to genuine Victaulic brand products.
- In these examples, Victaulic is an adjective, indicating the brand of the product, followed by the generic name of the type of product.

Do Not Use the Victaulic Trademark to Describe "Grooved Couplings" or any Category of Products in General

- When describing grooved couplings in general, it is appropriate to say, "grooved coupling" or "grooved mechanical coupling."

  For example:
  - It is correct to say "ways to join pipe include threaded, welded, flanged, and grooved connections."
  - It would be incorrect to say "ways to join pipe include threaded, welded, flanged, and Victaulic connections."

IMPORTANT GUIDELINES

Do Not Modify Trademarks

- Trademarks must not be modified, but must only be used in their complete and original form.
- For the Victaulic Logo – the only acceptable modification is proportional scaling/sizing of the Logo for consistent use. Refer to page 7 for all acceptable Logo appearances. It is not permissible to modify the Logo, alter the text in the Logo, combine the Logo with any other images, or incorporate the Logo into any other trademark. The Logo should never appear without the registered trademark symbol (®).
- For the Victaulic Word Trademark – the word itself must not be used in possessive form, be made plural, shortened or otherwise modified.
- When a trademark appears in copy or text, its first use on a page should show the full product title and trademark symbol (e.g., Style 177N QuickVic™ Installation-Ready™ Coupling). Later mentions can drop the symbol and style number but should highlight the trademark with italics, underlining, all-caps, or bold. The style or series number may be used by itself as well. This does not apply when "Victaulic" refers to the company — see the next section for details.

Victaulic is Our Company Name and a Trademark

- The Victaulic name is not only a trademark used to identify our products and services; it also serves as our company name. When using the Victaulic name as a reference to the Company itself, certain requirements set forth above are inapplicable.
- For example, when used to refer to the Company, Victaulic may be used as a noun or in the possessive form, and no ™ or ® symbol is needed. For example, in a press release, the following use would be proper: “Victaulic announced today a new line of commercial valve products.”

IMPORTANT GUIDELINES

The DON'Ts

- The complexities of Victaulic's many brands and the global business environment make it impossible to have global trademark guidelines without a few critical DON'Ts.
- Special Considerations for Japan: DON'T distribute products, literature, or any marketing collateral bearing the Victaulic Word Trademark, the Victaulic Logo, or the trademarks Vic or FireLock in Japan (including on websites hosted on Japan ccTLDs such as ".jp") for any reason without consultation with the Victaulic Legal Department. Victaulic has two trademarks registered especially for Japan. These marks are for use only in Japan and may only be used with the approval of the Victaulic Marketing Team in Shanghai.

Policing

- Monitoring for improper use of Victaulic's trademarks or similar marks is an important element of brand protection, and is required by the trademark laws of the United States and other jurisdictions. Please contact the Victaulic Legal Department to report any improper or inappropriate uses of Victaulic's trademarks, providing as much information as possible.

Trademark Resources

- In addition to the Victaulic Logo and the Victaulic Word Trademark, Victaulic has other important trademarks, like QuickVic™ and VicFlex™. For more information on these trademarks and how to use them all appropriately see the following resources: Trademark Policy

CORRECT LOGO USAGE

The Victaulic Logo is a vital trademark and the most prominent expression of the brand; therefore, it is important to use it correctly and consistently. The Victaulic Logo is to be used as a symbol only. It is not to be used as a word. The Logo should never appear without the registered trademark symbol (®). Modification of the Logo can damage its status as a registered trademark.
Below are four examples of acceptable Logo appearances. Logos are located on the Pipeline Corporate Branding page.
